

The Third World War and the Future of the Nations

In 1907, Anton Johansson, a simple ice fisherman, had a vision of the three world wars. He desperately tried to warn kings and generals, but, as always, they did not listen.

Johansson writes, "In the night of November 14, 1907 I was awakened shortly after midnight. I saw Jesus Christ with the crown of thorns and heard the words 'This is how I looked when I carried your and the world's misdeeds.' Later, I saw him surrounded by a wonderful light. He said to me 'It shall be given to you to know the secrets of the heavenly kingdom.' That night, I learned what would happen in the future, to the world as well as to my family." The most striking visions are those about the events of WWI to the Third World War. The first two world wars happened exactly as he saw them; we will therefore deal with the third, because it is close at hand.

Johansson's visions reveal the frightening features of the Third World War. A chain reaction of wars will begin in the east, so that the east will accuse the "capitalistic" western powers of attacking "freedom-loving nations" in the same way that happened in Korea. The goal of the east is to turn the entire world into a Korea.

Germany will be attacked both from the east as well as from the west, after Bolshevism takes power in France. At the same time, Russia will attack Scandinavia and Germany. According to the visions of another man, Germany, particularly the Ruhr region, will be attacked by three tank divisions from the east. These tank columns will move from Vienna via Passau and Nurnberg, from Prague via Hannover and from Berlin to Hamburg. According to this seer's visions, American atom bomber planes coming from Africa will destroy the tank columns, which suddenly advance during one night. The attack is supposed to happen in the autumn. This coincides with Johansson's statements, whereby the attack against Scandinavia will take place in the summer or the autumn.

Jesus's words to Anton Johansson were: "The war will come because of humanity's wickedness. After this time, the revelations of the Apostle John (the Apocalypse) shall be fulfilled". Johansson continues: "I then saw great crop failures for many years. There were natural catastrophes and there was much unrest in the earth's interior. Great earthquakes and terrible volcano eruptions caused much destruction, even in countries that had been spared such disasters up to now. Large mine accidents and major floods in western Germany and northern France; I saw lots of land under water in western Germany due to the floods. There were hurricanes in America, Europe and especially in England.

Together with the natural catastrophes, terrible plagues and horrifying illnesses came and caused an incredible number of victims among the populations. New types of diseases with unusually virulent characteristics appeared; they were much more dangerous than any epidemics of earlier times and killed many people around the world.

They cannot be treated with any medicine and will be particularly devastating in Russia. The Lord's voice explained that these and other diseases would ravage Russia especially, because of its godlessness. Over a quarter of the Russian population would die from these diseases. One of the worst diseases consisted of people going blind and going crazy. A severe lung disease epidemic as well as other diseases would appear. One would make people lose weight until they were like skeletons; another one similar to leprosy would cause pus-filled abscesses, causing the entire body to dissolve. Mainly the countries who waged war would be affected, but they would also spread to Europe and other parts of the world. The epidemics would be the worst in France, where most of the young people would be killed. Around ¼ of the world population would be killed by these diseases, and populations would drastically decrease. The Lord said: 'The peoples of Europe will be afflicted by much suffering, misery and hardship.' I saw how the lung disease raged terribly and how great the poverty was in Europe.

Darkness lay over all of the North Sea countries. No stars could be seen and a strong wind blew from the sea. I was led in spirit to a place close to Drontheim. I stood on the beach and looked across the ocean. The earth beneath me suddenly started to rise, and the houses shook. Soon afterwards, there was a great noise from the ocean, as a huge wave approached the coast with great speed, broke on the cliffs and flooded large parts of the land along the Norwegian coast. The eastern coast of England was also under water. Large parts of the land had sunk into the sea.

There was a terrible hurricane over America that flew across two oceans and was connected to the earthquake in the North Sea. The hurricane began near the Panama Canal. Major cities of the USA, such as Chicago, Minneapolis, Washington and New York, were all in flames. The hurricane crossed the Mediterranean and went all the way to southern Russia. Jesus said 'Germany, the strongest Christian nation in Europe, has been betrayed by the spirit of Judas and crucified, just like Jesus.' The good forces in America and England, who are alarmed about the consequences of their errors and neglect, will try to save their lives during the last great conflict. They will succeed in part, but only for a short time, because the powers of evil and godlessness are stronger and growing more quickly than the power of good. The good have wasted the opportunities that God gave them for a conquest of the world in spiritual Christian love. Fire and the sword will destroy many of them and create a great wilderness where the Antichrist will be dictator and executioner of the world. This will happen through the throngs of Bolshevism, which was the start of the Judas betrayal. East and West, the Russian and American power groups, will clash."

Johansson heard the following: "The Russians should take care not to lose a large part of Siberia, a fruitful land (possibly by China). India will be conquered by the masses of Chinese soldiers, who will surge out of Tibet and Pakistan." Persia (Iran) and Turkey will presumably be conquered by Russian troops and will lose their oil fields. Johansson heard: "Turkey should turn to Christ if it does not want to be eliminated from the group of free nations." Furthermore, he was told that a new Balkan war would come, with Greece participating, which would end tragically for the Balkan states. He also heard that the Balkan states would suffer greatly, especially Serbia. "In Italy, many will become homeless." According to Anton Johansson's statements, Italy will be drawn into a war, harshly oppressed and plundered. The Red tide will roll against Switzerland and France, passing through northern Italy, Austria and

Hungary. France will be conquered both from the inside and outside. Bolshevism will rule over France for a while and plunder the land. Johansson said, "I heard that this war will be horrifying."

Germany will be attacked, from both the east and the west, after Bolshevism has taken charge in France. Germany will be free again after being terribly plundered. East Germany and Poland and other countries in the east will also be free again." The Russians will probably also wage germ warfare against Scandinavia, because in connection with this battle, Johansson saw an epidemic that caused more deaths than the Spanish flu in the years 1918-1920.

Dear readers, this is where Johansson's explanations end! He warned that it was up to us to take his warnings seriously and turn to Jesus Christ before it is too late.
